Australian University Ratings and Rankings 2019/2020

The section below provide a series of ratings and insights across a range of indicators. On the premise that no institution is superb at everything, these rankings are high-level indicators and should be used to gain comparative insights into the varying strengths and characteristics of each institution.

This rating looks at the proportion of students who were satisfied with the overall quality of their educational experience.

Want to See What a Surgeon Does?

Surgeons perform surgery to correct deformities, repair injuries, prevent and treat diseases, and improve human functioning and appearance. Medical Registrars training as Surgeons are included in this unit group. Most occupations in this field typically require a bachelor degree or higher qualification, two years hospital-based training, and at least five years specialist study and training.

Why it's okay to change your career path.

As the closing date for university applications draws closer, many students start to panic about choosing their preferences — but it's not a once-and-for-all decision. It's not unusual to have a change of heart, even as you move into the workforce. After all, it's hard to know where your specific interests and strengths lie until you get started.

Rising to the Challenge of Change with the Evolution of Skills

The next decade will see a reshaping of the Australian workforce like never before with the rapid advances in technology, an expectation of improved customer service and employee soft skills. Download the TAFE Enterprise 'Evolution of Skills: Thought Leadership Report Series' which attempts to provide solutions to this challenge: <https://www.tafensw.edu.au/evolution-of-skills>

Have Your Say to TAFE

As we speed towards the end of another busy year, it's time to take stock and review what TAFE NSW has offered you and your high school students in 2019. We need your feedback and suggestions on what worked, what didn't and anything in between with our annual Career Adviser survey. Look out for the survey link in an upcoming issue of the CAA e-newsletter and our Career Adviser monthly newsletter.

Any Students Interested in Hospitality, Cookery or Events?

Kenvale College is Australia's first private hospitality college and we are not-for-profit. We would like to visit your school to introduce our courses specializing in Hospitality Management, Commercial Cookery and Event Management. Students get practical knowledge through concurrent paid work and study. Contact Chris Cox at study@kenvale.edu.au to organize a visit to your school.

National Careers Institute

Recently established by the Federal Government, they are looking for input from those in Career Development roles to help frame the operations of the Institute. This is a great opportunity for us to have a say at the Federal level, which may then flow through to the State level and influence how our role in schools can be strengthened and be more effective for our students. Please go to the website and take the time to look through it, complete the surveys and download the Background Paper to understand the concept behind the Institute. I have been informed that pages 1-17 are the most relevant for us.
